“HOLLYWOOD” REVISITED

In 2013 and 2014, the stones in the .64 acre Hollywood Cemetery in Buck Creek, Indiana, were set up for restoration. Not just cleaning, but resetting and repair of the stones was to be done by Stonehugger Cemetery Restoration, Inc. They have done an incredible job, bringing beauty back to the long neglected stones.

The cemetery was established in 1848, but records show that the oldest grave there is that of Joseph Miller, who died on March 23, 1833, at age 53 years, 4 days. Though the stone cannot be found, it's said he was buried along the road at the top of the hill. The last burial was that of Lula E. Lesley (wife of Bruce S.), April 14, 1975.

To my Church family, Thank you for my beautiful purple mum for my milestone birthday, and the Birthday song as I entered church. As I stood there it brought many memories to my mind. My church for 71 years plus. I praise God for my life and that Buck Creek UMC Church has been a part of my life. I know when some of my Sunday School students remind me that I was their teacher it makes me feel proud to have touched their lives and they have mine. Thanks for the many cards I received and phone calls.

The Buck Creek Fish Fry has not been held on Sunday since 1962, when "there was too much rain" on Saturday, according to the late Sylvia Davidson Eckhart's diary. That would be the case in 2014 as well, just add wind!

Scrambling to keep things dry with the tent gone with the wind. In all kinds of weather, BCUMC sticks together!

FISHERS OF MEN (AND WOMEN)

Children's sermon with Kay Miller on August 24, 2014. Kay asked the children to "fish", and with husband Bill's help, they were successful!

+ "How did you feel when you caught something on your pole? Thumbs up? There's a story in the Bible (Mark, Chapter 1:17) where Jesus says: 'Come follow me and I will make you fishers of men.'"

+ "Being fishers of men (and women) is a good way to show God's love and share His stories."

+ "God wants us to be fishers of men. We need to spread His love and His stories to other people."

+ "In school you can share God's love by being fishers of men. What if someone's supply bag falls on the floor and scatters all over. What do you do? [Child: "Help."] By helping (and sharing) you are sharing God's love---you are a fisher of men."

+ "Dear Lord, Thank You for asking us to be fishers of men and other people our own age. Help us to tell others about Your love. In Jesus' name we pray, Amen."

BIRTHDAY BLAST-BACK TO SUNDAY SCHOOL BASH: A BLAST!

BCUMC's annual all-church Birthday Party was held following the early Worship Service on Sunday, August 17th. BBQ pork sandwiches were featured and our church family provided the sides with Birthday cupcakes and ice cream to top off the celebration!

Thanks to the ladies who volunteered to meet at church to bake & decorate the cupcakes the preceding Friday...the cupcakes were delicious. Following the shared meal & fellowship, the Back-to-Sunday-School Bash was held outside. Church family and neighbors were invited for fun, games, face painting and prizes to celebrate the start of Sunday School classes in early September!

Thank you to all who helped make the double celebration another BIG success!

FIVE MORE QUESTIONS!

In May 2009, the Muellers were the second ones to answer Five Questions for the BCUMC newsletter. Here now are Five MORE Questions for them!

KEN

1. What was your first job and how did it affect your future?

I got a job working in a chemistry lab at the University of Arizona. I believe it was while I was still in high school. As I recall, it had to do with adding potassium cyanide to copper solutions to form copper cyanide complexes and doing ultraviolet spectrometry on the mixture. This got me started with handling hazardous materials & doing analytical measurements using instrumentation. Having acquired an interest in instrumentation, I went on to build some home built instrumentation for a science fair project. I built a gas chromatograph, and was attempting to develop a detector using an X-ray machine. (This was the only experimental X-ray machine in the state that was registered with the Arizona Atomic Energy Commission.) I never got the detector to work, but I did get the instrument to work using a conventional detector. This won me a trip to California. I later got a Master's degree from Purdue in analytical chemistry using instrumental analytical techniques. Finally I ended up at the Purdue nuclear accelerator where I was hired to do drinking water analysis for the EPA using the detector. Now I'm involved in using the accelerator to do carbon dating of artifacts. Much of my time is still involved with designing modification for the instrument.

2. What is one of your wife Lydia's most endearing qualities?

Her voice: I really like the way she talks, and the qualities of her voice. She can talk about just about anything. She seemed to be a natural with the little kids at VBS. She is also very good at conversing with total strangers. Her smile: She has a wonderful smile and an amazing laugh. She is very open and honest about things. Uniqueness: You can never predict what she will do. She comes up with interesting ways of doing things. She has an almost MacGyver type quality of combining things that don't belong together to do something. Sometimes they work, sometimes they don't, but the way she does it is amazing. Decorating: She really has a flare for decorating and artsy-craftsy types of things. I'd just hang something on the wall, but she wants it to have some sort of balance and to look good with other nearby things. She makes it look good, but it is far beyond my comprehension how she does it.

3. What's the most daring thing you've ever done?

While I was in high school, I made rockets out of copper tubing and fuels that I mixed up myself. They typically took off, flew erratically, and then exploded. Most of the fuels were explosives that in this era would be very much illegal to produce without a license that it would be next to impossible to get.

4. When you count your blessings, what comes out on top?

That I ended up moving to Buck Creek, and having a great family, an absolutely fantastic church, and a church family that is unbelievably loving and caring.

5. You've been a member of BCUMC for ten years. What's a special memory you have with your church family?

When we started going to BCUMC, I really didn't believe in God, but was coming because Lydia thought it would be good for Robert. We went for a while and then got busy with other things and didn't come for a few weeks. Then, one day there was a little bag hung on our door with some cookies and a note that said that we were missed! We started going again, and hearing Linda LaMaster talking at one of the retreats got me thinking that there might just be something to all this God stuff. Before long I was a member of the church, and the rest is history.

LYDIA

1. Where were you born and raised?

I was born in Lafayette, Indiana, at Home Hospital. My first year was spent in a house on South 9th St. Hill. Then we moved to a newly built house in the Edgelea Addition. There is where I spent my growing up years.

2. What is one of your husband Ken's most endearing qualities?

He has many great qualities but the best one is his cheerfulness. He has a great smile and is always cheerful, with an upbeat attitude, and best thoughts for the day ahead.

3. Tell us about a "God moment" you've had in your life.

I fell head over heels down my basement stairs one day. I thought I was going to die or be disabled. A calm feeling came over me and I felt the presence of God so I knew everything would be fine. I landed on a cement floor landing on my backside and hitting my head. Friends took me to Urgent Care. They took X-rays and said I was fine, no breaks or fractures. I sure was sore for a long time.

4. What's your favorite thing about the BCUMC newsletter?

It is always on time and it tells so much about my church family. It also includes some historical things from our area. It always has good pictures too.

5. What is one of your favorite church activities and why?

My favorite activity would be the meals we have every year for the firefighters and their families. It feels so good to give back something to those that give so much of themselves. It is such a pleasure to see them relax and enjoy everything. I enjoy seeing them in their awesome uniforms.

ROBERT

1. What's a favorite memory of growing up in Buck Creek, Indiana?

Making a snowman in the front yard with Mom, Dad and Grampa Marvin.

2. What hobbies do you have?

Writing, Art, Video games, Geography, Science.

3. What's your favorite fast food?

Hot dogs and the Chocolate Extreme Blizzard at Dairy Queen.

4. What is something most people don't know about you?

I like orange and white cats best.

5. You just turned 16. What are your future plans after you graduate high school?

I haven't decided yet.
